
PRESS RELEASE

June 27, 2022

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

The National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) Celebrates 2022 Strength and Conditioning Journal (SCJ) Editorial Excellence Award Winner Tom Cormier, MS, CSCS,*D, CSPS,*D, NSCA-CPT,*D

Colorado Springs, CO – The National Strength and Conditioning Association is proud to announce that Mr. Tom Cormier has been selected as the NSCA's SCJ Editorial Excellence Award winner for 2022. Mr. Cormier becomes the 24th recipient of the award, which has been handed out since 1999. Award winners are selected by SCJ Senior Editorial Staff based on their contributions as a reviewer to the NSCA's Strength and Conditioning Journal.

Tom Cormier is an exercise professional who has his Master's Degree in Performance Science and has obtained multiple certifications including the NSCA's CPT, CSCS, and CSPS as well as USA Weightlifting and Certified Kettlebell Instructor. He has 20 years of experience in the fitness industry and is currently the Commercial Operations manager for Setanta College, focusing on growth and development in North America. Outside of his primary job, it is his passion to push the fitness industry forward by writing, researching, reading, networking and volunteering.

"Congratulations to Tom as the recipient of the Strength and Conditioning Journal Editorial Excellence Award," said Dr. T. Jeff Chandler, Editor-in-Chief of the NSCA's SCJ. "Tom has an outstanding record as a reviewer for SCJ, and has demonstrated the reviewer skills necessary to improve the journal. We are proud to have Tom as a member of the NSCA and a member of the editorial team for SCJ."

Mr. Cormier will receive special recognition of his accomplishment at the NSCA National Conference which will be held in New Orleans, LA, July 6-9. The conference brings together the best of the best from all reaches of the strength and conditioning industry to provide an educational experience unlike any other. From cutting-edge presentations to dynamic hands-on sessions by renowned professors, researchers, strength coaches, and personal trainers, attendees receive the tools to help expand their knowledge and further their careers. For more information regarding the NSCA and their awards, please visit www.nasca.com.

Media Note: To schedule an interview, contact marketing@nsca.com.

About the National Strength & Conditioning Association

Founded in 1978, The National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) is a nonprofit association dedicated to advancing the strength and conditioning and related sport science professions around the world.

The NSCA exists to empower a community of professionals to maximize their impact through disseminating evidence-based knowledge and its practical application by offering industry-leading certifications, research journals, career development services, networking opportunities, and continuing education. The NSCA community is composed of more than 60,000 members and certified professionals throughout the world who further industry standards as researchers, educators, strength and conditioning coaches, performance and sport scientists, personal trainers, tactical professionals, and other related roles.